WILSON SPEAKS AT MOBILE

FORMALLY OPENS SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.
OUTLINES POLICY.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 27.—A busy six-hour stay of President Wilson in Mobile, speeches by Majority Leader Oscar Underwood, Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels and many others, marked the opening of the seventh annual Southern Commercial Congress here today. Delegates from all sections of the South heard President Wilson utter distinctive statements of a new angle of the policy of the United States toward Latin-America, heard Mr. Underwood advocate upbuilding of the American merchant marine as the best method of gaining commerce, believed to be due the South because of the opening of the Panama Canal, and other speakers tell of the opportunity that awaits Dixie when the canal is opened to trade.

The program early in the day, so far as it affected President Wilson was delayed and instead of the delegates hearing him speak twice as had been planned, he delivered only one address, because of lack of time. The president let it be known that his administration would look to moral rather than material interests for pacifying our Southern neighbors, and this stirred the delegates to a line of thought unexpected.

As the late Senator Morgan of Alabama was one of the early advocates of a canal across the isthmus, Gov. Emmet O'Neal of Alabama took for the slogan of his address, introducing President Wilson, "Alabama Did It."

"Where France surrendered, America conquered; where De Lesseps failed, Goethals triumphed," he declared. "It is a singular coincidence," the speaker said, "that at the very time geographical limitations are struck from our commerce by one great American, political and legal shackles are being stricken from it by another. While Goethals wrought out the great ambition of Morgan and achieved our physical liberation from the obstacles of nature, our great president, our most honored guest today, is guiding and directing the policies now happily crowned with success, which freed us from the grievous burden of an unjust and iniquitous system of tariff taxation, unshackled commerce and gave us the invigorating breath of that new freedom under the stimulating effects of which the American people will move forward to great and more lasting triumphs in all that fields of industrial and commercial life."

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, in his annual address, told of what the congress had done in the past year and what was expected in the next year.

Among other speakers at the morning session was Congressman G. W. Taylor of Alabama, who welcomed the delegates to Alabama.

Immediately preceding Mr. Underwood tonight was the address of Clarence Osley of Fort Worth, Tex., who recited the enormous loss to the Southern planter through waste in handling and marketing the cotton crop. He said this amount was about $5 a bale, or an estimated total of $70,000,000 this season. Methods of eliminating this waste already advocated were reiterated by him with the statement that this elimination would work as great a good to the South as what was expected of the opening of the canal.

Mr. Underwood emphasized the point that without shipping controlled by the United States, this country never could gain the increase in trade it expected from the opening of the canal. He pointed out that now about 10 percent of the material imported and exported into and from the United States was carried in American bottoms. In fostering American shipping lay the best chances to gain through the opening of the canal, said Mr. Underwood.

The News is informed that R. F. Welborn of Oakman has fifteen acres in peanuts this season from which he will harvest not less than 50 bushels per acre, to say nothing of the hay. He will thrash it in a short time and have a handsome surplus profit from the crop when sold.

Several others in that vicinity are also growing smaller patches of the goobers, among whom are W. M. Carter, who estimates his crop of six acres at 50 bushels per acre. He will bale his crop without threshing.

ANOTHER DELAY

GRANTED THAW

Rochester, N. H., Oct. 27.—Gov. Feltner, after hearing both sides, today granted the request of Harry K. Thaw for a further continuance in the extradition proceedings, setting Nov. 4 as the final date on which his attorneys may file a supplementary brief bearing on the conspiracy indictment returned against their client by the New York County Grand Jury. A continuance of two weeks had been requested.

William Travers Jerome, who opposed the delay, will be allowed two days to answer the new brief.

Probably 3,000 people gathered at the City Hall to see Thaw and many crowded into the room where the hearing was held. It was a Thaw crowd and when former Gov. Stone of Pennsylvania, who appeared for Thaw, declared that the sentiment of the people of New York and New Hampshire was that his client had been sufficiently punished, there was a demonstration of approval so noisy that the governor ordered the room cleared. Officers attempted to carry out the order, but made little headway and the spectators remained to the end.

Personalities were woven into the argument. Jerome declared that Thaw's counsel from Gov. Stone down wished to keep Thaw in New Hampshire as long as possible, "as long even as the Thaw coal and coke mines hold out to burn."

Mr. Stone likened Jerome to the "hound of the Baskervilles."

Jerome described Thaw as a "degenerate insane criminal," and said that Thaw money had attempted to bribe a Grand Juror and jurymen during his first trial for the murder of Stanford White.

JOAN OF ARC COMING.

Not the Joan of Old, But a Glittering and Gorgeous Circus Spectacle.

Joan of Arc is coming to Ada on Friday, Oct. 31, with 1,200 of her followers. It is not the real Maid of Orleans, however, for she died in the fifteenth century, but the Joan of Arc of Ringling Brothers' circus.

The historical spectacle, presented by the Ringlings this season, is unique in circus exhibitions. Wherever the show pitches its tents thousands are looking to the show grounds to witness a great production in which 1,200 characters, a ballet of 300 dancing girls, chorus of 400 voices, and 600 horses appear. The owners of the circus have sought to present an accurate array of ensemble and pageants, and the scenes in Paris, Chinon and Rheims which followed the delivery of France by the peasant girl, and the events leading up to the coronation of Charles VII.

Stonewall Cotton Receipts.

According to the Stonewall News 1,786 bales of cotton have been ginned there. Cotton yard receipts are 1,450 bales.

Entered at the Postoffice at Ada, Oklahoma, as second class mail matter.

In some quarters it is rumored that Gov. Cruce is considering the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature. With Sulser's tragic experience with a special session we rather think all governors might do well to profit by his fate.

The football game with Edmond, which will be played here Thursday afternoon, will probably be the best that will be seen here this season. There will be some lively times there and the Ada boys have their appetites whetted up to a point where they will enjoy another feast. Ada people should give the boys all the encouragement possible and thus make doubly sure that the feast will not be one of crow. Boost for the boys and whoop for the game.

Miss Catherine Elkins is married at last. It was a plain American who won her heart and now that all doubt is removed perhaps the Italian duke will get a rest, so far as American papers steps will be taken looking to that end. If not begun early the matter will go over and nothing will be done. An early beginning must be had when ever anything definite is done about it.

It now looks as if the man who thought Ada would not receive at least 9,000 bales of cotton this season are concerned. However, it may be that all this talk that was made about it was permissible on the ground that all the world loves a lover. This couple certainly had ample evidence that they were very much loved, if publicity is any evidence.

WANTED—A friend who will recognize me when compelled to wear patched pants; who will take my hand when I am sliding down hill, instead of giving me a kick to hasten my descent; who will lend me a dollar without two dollars security; who will come to me when I am sick; who will pull off his coat when the adds are two to one; who will talk of me behind my back as he does to my face. Such a being is wanted by ten thousand human beings throughout the world.—Sallisaw Star-Gazette.

For a long time the News has laid stress on the fact that Pontotoc county needs an annual fair to properly exploit her exhibits. We have not changed our mind about it and hope that in the very near future active has another guess coming. In spite of bad weather the 6,000 mark has been passed and with what is to come and the high price it is bringing, and incidentally the fairly good feed crop raised, which will save buying so much, it is a safe bet that the country will be in as good shape as at any time for several years past. The feeling of uncertainty and pessimism which prevailed at the beginning of the season has given place to optimism and confidence.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Clear, Sneezing and Nose-Running Cease, Dull Headache Goes

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. The sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.
(Adv.)

This company is composed of artists in the highest sense of the word.

Mars Trying to Signal Earth?

Geneva, Oct. 28.—Le Coultre, an un distinguished astronomer, says the Martians are trying to signal the earth. During observations that lasted seventeen days the astronomer remarked a series of luminous apparitions, bluish electric arc lamps. The illuminations, which usually lasted several seconds, were observed on different nights. This is not the first occasion on which they have been seen, but most previous theories have been exploded, and the conclusions come to by Le Coultre are strongly in favor of the phenomena being due to regular attempts made during recent years by the Martians to get into communication with our planet.

WILSON SPEAKS AT MOBILE

FORMALLY OPENS SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONGRESS. OUTLINES POLICY.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 27.—A busy six-hour stay of President Wilson in Mobile, speeches by Majority Leader Oscar Underwood, Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels and many others, marked the opening of the seventh annual Southern Commercial Congress here today. Delegates from all sections of the South heard President Wilson utter distinctive statements of a new angle of the policy of the United States toward Latin-America, heard Mr. Underwood advocate upbuilding of the American merchant marine as the best method of gaining commerce, believed to be due the South because of the opening of the Panama Canal, and other speakers tell of the opportunity that awaits Dixie when the canal is opened to trade.

The program early in the day, so far as it affected President Wilson was delayed and instead of the delegates hearing him speak twice as had been planned, he delivered only one address, because of lack of time. The president let it be known that his administration would look to moral rather than material interests for pacifying our Southern neighbors, and this stirred the delegates to a line of thought unexpected.

As the late Senator Morgan of Alabama was one of the early advocates of a canal across the isthmus, Gov. Emmet O'Neal of Alabama took for the slogan of his address, introducing President Wilson, "Alabama Did It."

"Where France surrendered, America conquered; where De Lesseps failed, Goethals triumphed," he declared. "It is a singular coincidence," the speaker said, "that at the very time geographical limitations are struck from our commerce by one great American, political and legal shackles are being stricken from it by another. While Goethals wrought out the great ambition of Morgan and achieved our physical liberation from the obstacles of nature, our great president, our most honored guest today, is guiding and directing the policies now happily crowned with success, which freed us from the grievous burden of an unjust and iniquitous system of tariff taxation, unshackled commerce and gave us the invigorating breath of that new freedom under the stimulating effects of which the American people will move forward to great and more lasting triumphs in all that fields of industrial and commercial life."

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, in his annual address, told of what the congress had done in the past year and what was expected in the next year.

Among other speakers at the morning session was Congressman G. W. Taylor of Alabama, who welcomed the delegates to Alabama.

Immediately preceding Mr. Underwood tonight was the address of Clarence Ousley of Fort Worth, Tex., who recited the enormous loss to the South from planter through waste in handling and marketing the cotton crop. He said this amount was about $5 a bale, or an estimated total of $70,000,000 this season. Methods of eliminating this waste already advocated were reiterated by him with the statement that this elimination would work as great a good to the South as what was expected of the opening of the canal.

Mr. Underwood emphasized the point that without shipping controlled by the United States, this country never could gain the increase in trade it expected from the opening of the canal. He pointed out that now about 10 per cent of the material imported and exported into and from the United States was carried in American bottoms. In fostering American shipping lay the best chances to gain through the opening of the canal, said Mr. Underwood.

The News is informed that R. F. Welborn of Oakman has fifteen acres in peanuts this season from which he will harvest not less than 50 bushels per acre, to say nothing of the hay. He will thrash it in a short time and have a handsome surplus profit from the crop when sold.

Several others in that vicinity are also growing smaller patches of the goobers, among whom are W. M. Carter, who estimates his crop of six acres at 50 bushels per acre. He will bale his crop without threshing.

In some quarters it is rumored that Gov. C. C. Crute is considering the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature. With Sulzer's tragic experience with a special session we rather think all governors might do well to profit by his fate.

The football game with Edmond, which will be played here Thursday afternoon, will probably be the best that will be seen here this season. There will be some lively times there and the Ada boys have their appetites whetted up to a point where they will enjoy another feast. Ada people should give the boys all the encouragement possible and thus make doubly sure that the feast will not be one of crow. Boost for the boys and whoop for the game.

Miss Catherine Elkins is married at last. It was a plain American who won her heart and now that all doubt is removed perhaps the Italian duke will get a rest, so far as American papers steps will be taken looking to that end. If not begun early the matter will go over and nothing will be done. An early beginning must be had when ever anything definite is done about it.

It now looks as if the man who thought Ada would not receive at least 9,000 bales of cotton this season are concerned. However, it may be that all this talk that was made about it was permissible on the ground that all the world loves a lover. This couple certainly had ample evidence that they were very much loved, if publicity is any evidence.

WANTED—A friend who will recognize me when compelled to wear patched pants; who will take my hand when I am sliding down hill, instead of giving me a kick to hasten my descent; who will lend me a dollar without two dollars security; who will come to me when I am sick; who will pull off his coat when the adds are two to one; who will talk of me behind my back as he does to my face. Such a being is wanted by ten thousand human beings throughout the world. —Sallisaw Star-Gazette.

For a long time the News has laid stress on the fact that Pontotoc county needs an annual fair to properly exploit her exhibits. We have not changed our mind about it and hope that in the very near future active has another guess coming. In spite of bad weather the 6,000 mark has been passed and with what is to come and the high price it is bringing, and incidentally the fairly good feed crop raised, which will save buying so much, it is a safe bet that the county will be in as good shape as at any time for several years past. The feeling of uncertainty and pessimism which prevailed at the beginning of the season has given place to optimism and confidence.

Mars Trying to Signal Earth?

Geneva, Oct. 28.—Le Coultre, an distinguished astronomer, says the Martians are trying to signal the earth. During observations that lasted seventeen days the astronomer remarked a series of luminous apparitions, bluish electric arc lamps. The illuminations, which usually lasted several seconds, were observed on different nights. This is not the first occasion on which they have been seen, but most previous theories have been exploded, and the conclusions come to by Le Coultre are strongly in favor of the phenomena being due to regular attempts made during recent years by the Martians to get into communication with our planet.

Don't worry over lost articles—A NEWS WANT AD will find them.

This evening the De Sota will present a startling four-reel drama showing scenes in the Turkish-Balkan war. It is entitled "The War Correspondents" and every detail is the height of startling. This picture is beyond doubt the most startling and difficult to produce of any ever attempted. Aeroplanes take part in the battle, trains are blown up and many other wonderful things appear. You can't afford to miss it.

The work of erecting the new Methodist church on the corner of Broadway and 7th, has begun and it is expected that in the near future the building will be completed and ready for use. The building committee have planned to erect a church that our town will be proud of and especially those who subscribed to the building fund. It is requested that those who have subscribed to the building fund to hand in their subscription to the committee and any help rendered them will certainly be appreciated by them.—Stonewall News.

AMERICAN "BEATS TIME" OF FOREIGN NOBLEMAN

Washington, Oct. 27.—Diplomatic and society circles in Washington heard of the marriage of Miss Katherine Elkins to William F. R. Hitt with unusual interest. The news came as a complete surprise, although it was known that the wealthy young Washingtonian had been an ardent admirer of Miss Elkins for many years.

A few years ago capital society was certain that Miss Elkins would wed the famous Duke de Abruzzi, member of the Italian royal family, naval officer and explorer. About the time the duke came to America in command of the Italian fleet that participated in the international rendezvous at the Jamestown exposition, his attention to the West Virginian heiress attracted attention. Then for several years there were periodically semi-authoritative announcements of engagements. It was said that the duke's family objected and then that Miss Elkins had rejected the attentions of her royal suitor.

NEGRO TO FACE SIXTH TRIAL

Anniston, Ala., Oct. 28.—Preparations are rapidly being completed here for the sixth trial, on the charge of murder, of Ervin Pope, a colored man who is charged with having killed J. B. McClurkin, a prominent planter of Oxford, near Anniston, in April 1909.

Pope was tried five times and every time he was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged; yet, even the sight of the gallows erected for his execution in the rear of the county jail, could not shake the fearless confidence of the prisoner that he would not be hanged and that his innocence would be proved in the end. From the very beginning Pope has asserted his innocence and has adhered to this assertion in the face of the most incriminating circumstantial evidence. Technical flaws in the rulings of the court enabled Pope's lawyer to obtain a new trial in every case, but Pope, with the childlike simplicity of the typical Southern negro ascribed his success in escaping the gallows not to his lawyer's ability, and to errors of the court, but to the rabbit's foot he carries in his pocket. It is the left hind foot of a rabbit "killed in a graveyard on a moonlight night," an infallible charm in the belief of thousands of his race.

The murder of McClurkin was extremely brutal. He heard a noise near his barn and when he rode toward the scene he was knocked from his horse with a heavy cudgel. His head was beaten to a pulp with a rock. Pope was well-to-do, being a successful farmer. He always paid his debts and had a good reputation, but the evidence was against him, greatly strengthened by the allegations of Body, who turned witness against him.

Pope was convicted of the crime for the first time in May, 1909. "Bloody shoes found in the barn in the rear of his house, overall buttons found in the ashes around a washpot, a defect in one of the hoofs of his mule and other circumstantial evidence were introduced against him, but the most telling feature of the trial was the testimony of John Body, who stated that he heard the scuffle between Pope and McClurkin, who pleaded for mercy in front of his house, where the killing occurred. Body said he lighted a candle and wrote down the words of the victim and the name of Pope, so that he might not forget them. When he was released from jail he fled the country and has not been heard from since.

Bitter feeling was manifested against Pope from the first although previous to the murder he had been well liked. Special guards were kept at the jail during the hearing to protect the prisoner from mob violence. As soon as he was convicted he was hurried to Birmingham, where he was kept, except when taken to Anniston for trial. After the first trial Pope's lawyer obtained a new trial upon technical grounds. Pope was convicted again by the lower court in April, 1910, and again a new trial was ordered. Pope was tried and convicted again in the Spring of 1911, but the case was reversed and remanded on account of the admission of testimony which tended to exculpate John Body, who was believed by many to have been a party to the crime. Pope was tried for the fourth time in February of this year and again convicted, but the Supreme Court reversed the case and the prisoner was tried for the fifth time in July and again sentenced to death, but once more Pope's lawyer was successful in obtaining a new trial upon technical grounds. ## Good Time Now for Blood Health

Warm Days and Proper
Help do Wonders for the Blood.

A few doses of that wonderful blood purifier, S. S. S., will start activities in the cellular tissues of the body and soon show decided changes in the skin. The skin is but a fine network of tiny blood vessels, and the specific action of S. S. S. is declared to be a pronounced stimulation of the activity of these cells. Certain it is that in a surprisingly short time any skin eruption shows a most remarkable change; it begins to dry up; the skin scales off in tiny flakes, and soon a layer of clear, healthy and firm tissue results. The reason for this is in the peculiar stimulation of S. S. S., which enables the cells in the skin to select from the blood the nutriment it requires for regeneration.

This fact has been demonstrated year in and year out in a wonderful number of cases of severe skin diseases that had seemed to be incurable. You can obtain S. S. S. at any well-stocked drug store, if you insist upon it, but be sure you are not talked into something "just as good."

S. S. S. is prepared by the Swift Specialty Co., 180 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Write for their illustrated book on skin diseases.

coming trial will be the sixth and its outcome is awaited with considerable interest throughout the state.

CINDERS

"I've got a cinder in my eye!" How frequently we hear this expression in the street, especially when the air is filled with dust and smoke, or anywhere beneath the network of elevated tracks. While this may seem a trivial mishap, and often is if the foreign substance is immediately removed from the eye, yet it is often a most serious thing, and the public at large little realizes that a seemingly unimportant accident of this sort may result in serious and permanent impairment of vision. The membrane covering the eyeball is a very delicate structure, and when even a tiny speck of any foreign matter lodges on it it quickly becomes imbedded. The irritation thus set up causes the "person" to wink the eye frequently, and each time the lid closes, rubbing against the particle, it tends to imbed it still farther into the membrane. The efforts of sympathizing friends to remove the offending speck with a handkerchief or a wooden toothpick, instead of helping the situation, usually results in making a bad matter worse, from the damage thus done to the tissue. Infection is then easily carried deeper into the tissue, and an ulcer results. If the process reaches this stage, even if the cause should be completely removed, it would perhaps be too late to prevent a scar after the ulcer heals. It might be so faint as to be hardly distinguishable, yet if it is situated just in front of the pupil, as very frequently happens, the vision of the eye would be seriously and perhaps permanently impaired. The public should understand the seriousness of such occurrences, and public spirit should be aroused to the point of insisting on municipal regulation, eliminating smoke and dust as far as possible from city streets. Having the streets washed every night, as is done in many of the European cities, instead of having them swept during the day, and prohibiting the burning of soft coal within the city limits, would go a long way toward remedying this evil.—American Medical Journal.

BIG FEATURES WITH CIRCUS

Ringling Brothers Coming to Town
With Great Array of Foreign Talent.

Last winter was an unusually productive season with the foreign agents of Ringling Brothers' circus. No less than forty big acts were imported. The greatest of aerialists, acrobats, gymnasts, tumblers, clowns and equestrians were engaged for this season's tour. The greatest riding act ever seen in America is presented by the Balkan family of riders. Their wild ride rivals that of the Cossack and the American cowboy. Their performance is exciting and dramatic in the extreme.

It was in Russia that an agent of Ringling Brothers came upon the now famous band. He quickly recognized in them a wonderfully novel attraction for America. They were under contract for two more years in Europe, but this did not discourage the energetic agent. He simply went to the circus man who had them under contract, bought him out and closed with the Balkan family in the nick of time for their appearance at the opening of Ringling Brothers' circus.
